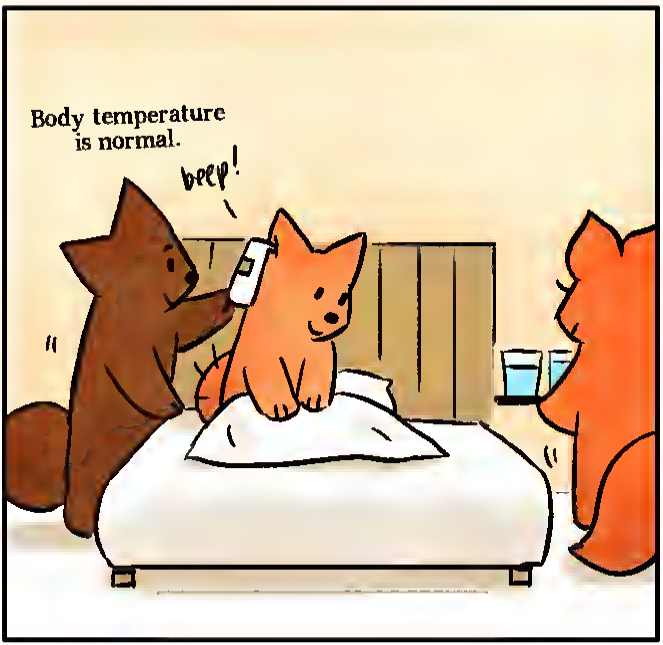
ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Reminiscences

After the fox siblings reunited,
they can finally catch up with each other's lives.

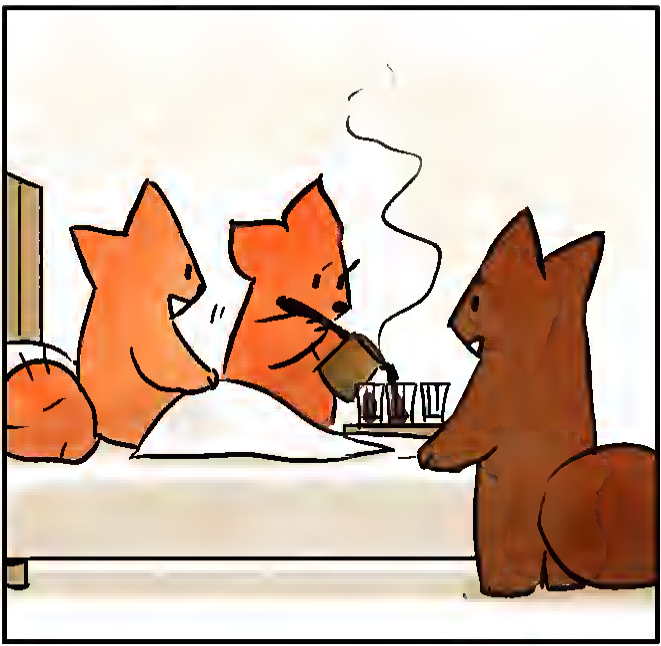


Body temperature is normal.
beep!

Foxavier told the medical team that he is staying with Foxy for a while.

They made coffee and chatted in the room

as they waited for Foxy to recover.



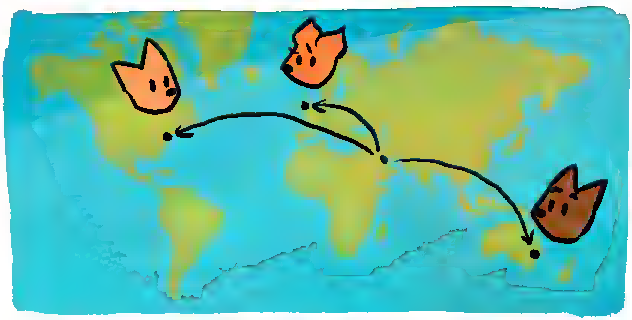
Cheers!

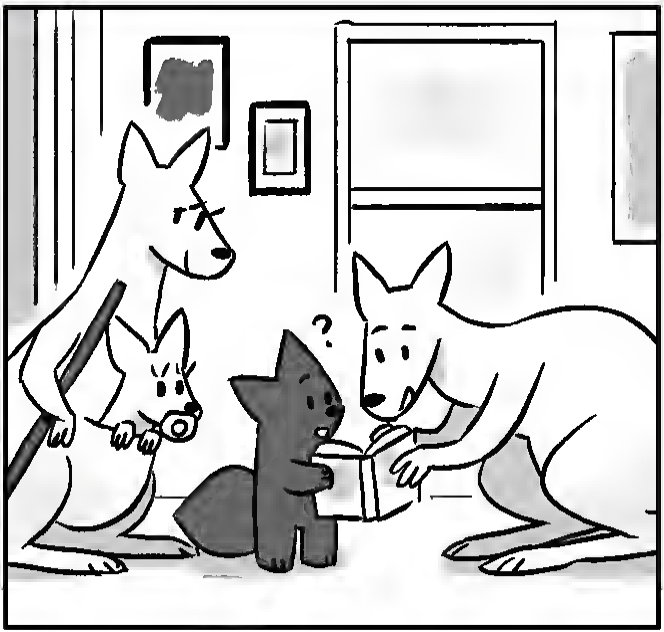
You know, before I found you guys, I think about my family everytime I drink coffee.
Me too!
Me too!

Tell us about your story, big brother!
Hmm, where should I begin...

After the fox siblings separated from the war,

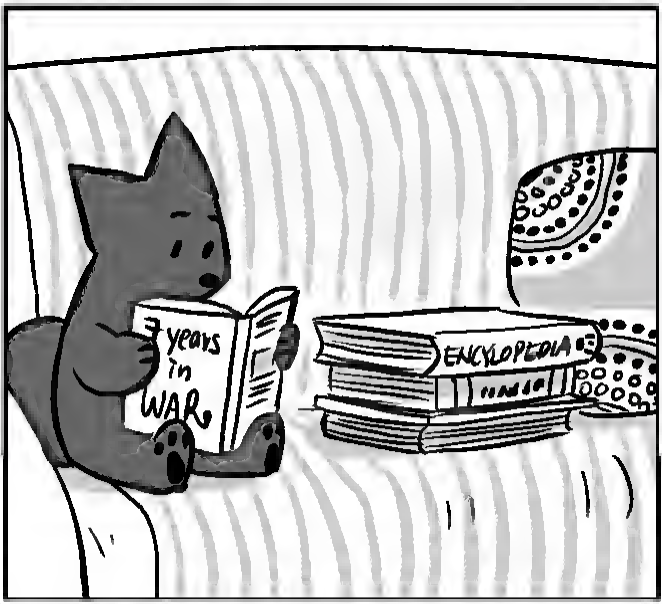
Foxavier went to a foster family in Australia.





Being the oldest of the fox siblings,

Foxavier had a strong impression of the war.



As he had the opportunity to go to school,

he aspired to become a doctor and save others' lives.

Anyone can answer this question?
Yes, Foxavier?

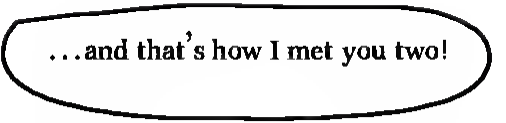
Foxavier studied hard and finally graduated as a pediatrician. (children's doctor)

He especially wanted to help the animals affected by war, so he volunteered to join the charity organization Medicines sans Frontiers.

For a few months every year, Foxavier travelled with a medical team to different countries.

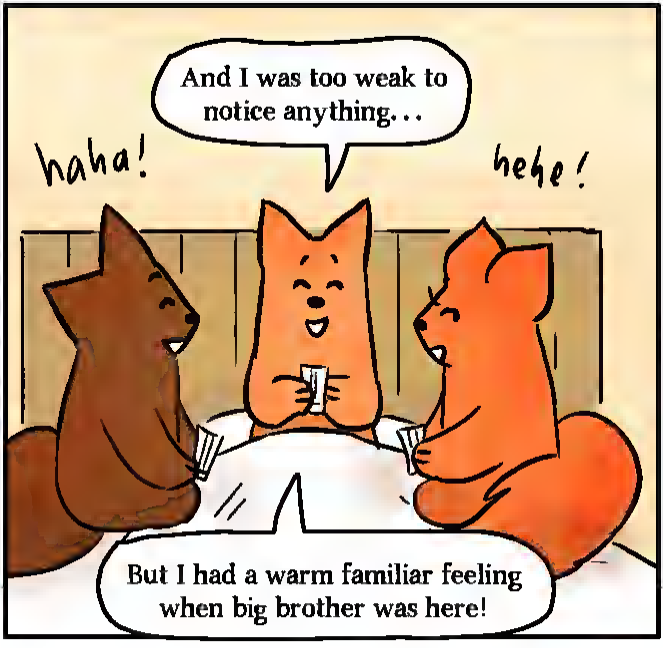
This year, he was appointed to a small country beside Sandy Arabbita.

Foxavier was very happy because he can visit his home country during the trip.



. . . and that's how I met you two!

To be honest, I didn't recognize you at first.
I just wanted to provide medical help.
I didn't recognize you too!
I was too worried about Foxy to think about other things.



And I was too weak to notice anything...
haha!
hehe!
But I had a warm familiar feeling when big brother was here!

Thanks to the sandstorm that we found each other!
It's amazing how our paths crossed.

I remembered how Mr. Elephunk taught me that some things in life cannot be controlled.
"Just leave everything to the universe, and destiny will reveal its way."

I'm really happy knowing your stories too.
I want to meet Mr. Elephunk, he seems to be full of wisdom.

Why don't you come to Animerica with us?
I need to rejoin my medical team and complete this trip... but we can walk around the city these few days!

During the week, the fox siblings visited the charity center they once stayed.

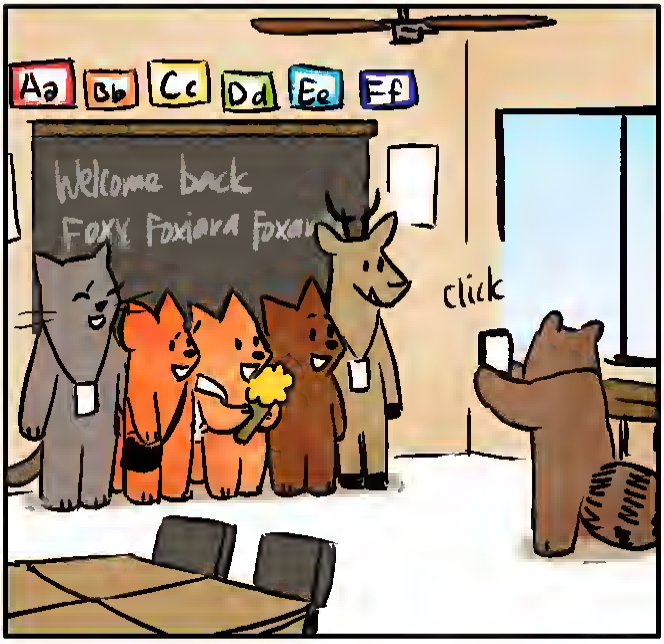
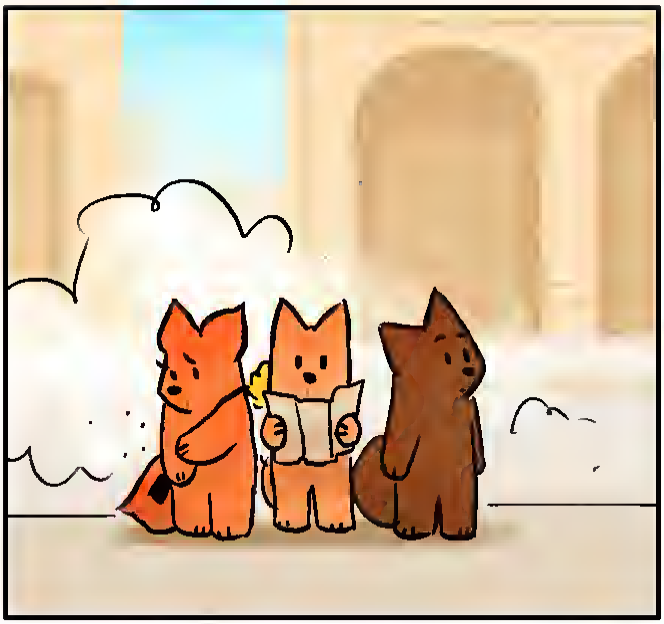
They are welcomed by the staff and obtained more information about their home.



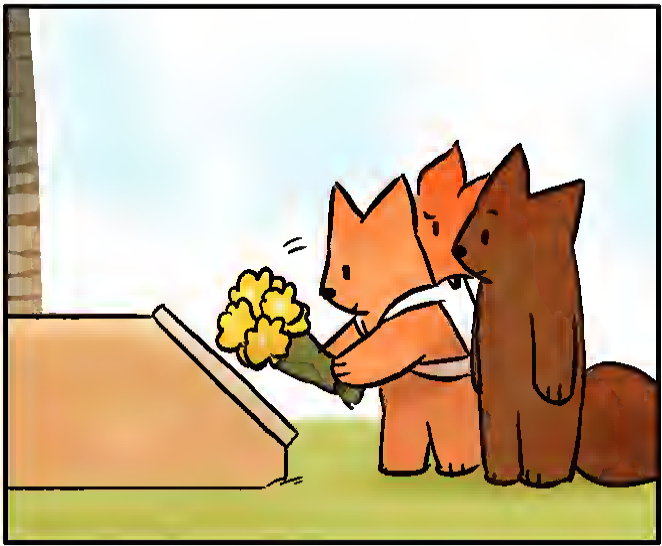
Following the map, they travelled to the place where they once lived in their childhood.



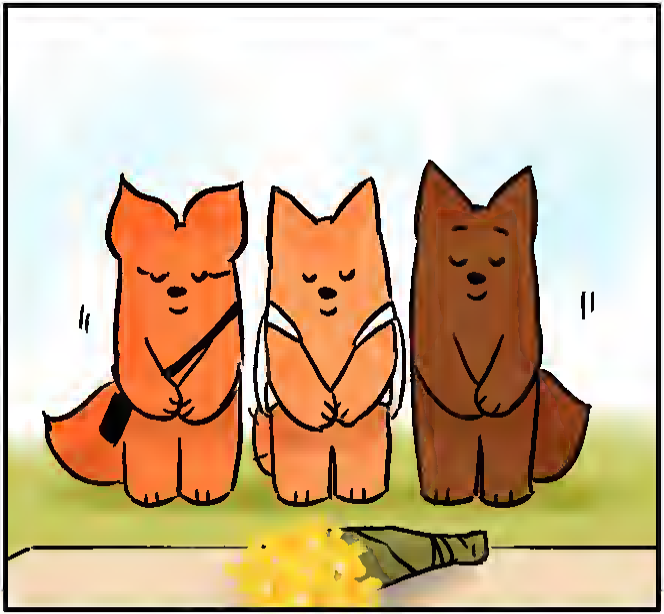
Their home was destroyed in the war,

and the area became a memorial park.

The fox siblings mourned for their parents.



IN MEMORIAL
OF THE LIVES SACRIFICED IN THE
SANDY ARABBITA CIVIL WAR



Dear mum and dad,

You don't have to worry anymore
because we have finally found each other.

Please rest well in the clouds.

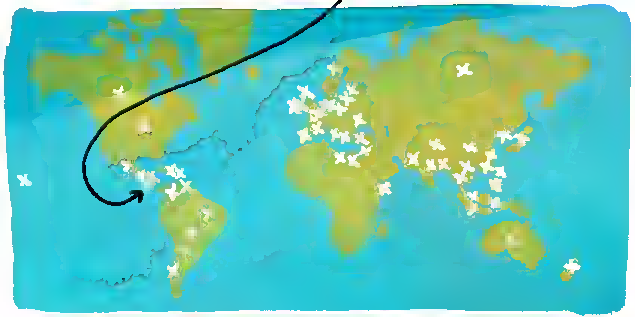
ROAR STREET JOURNAL

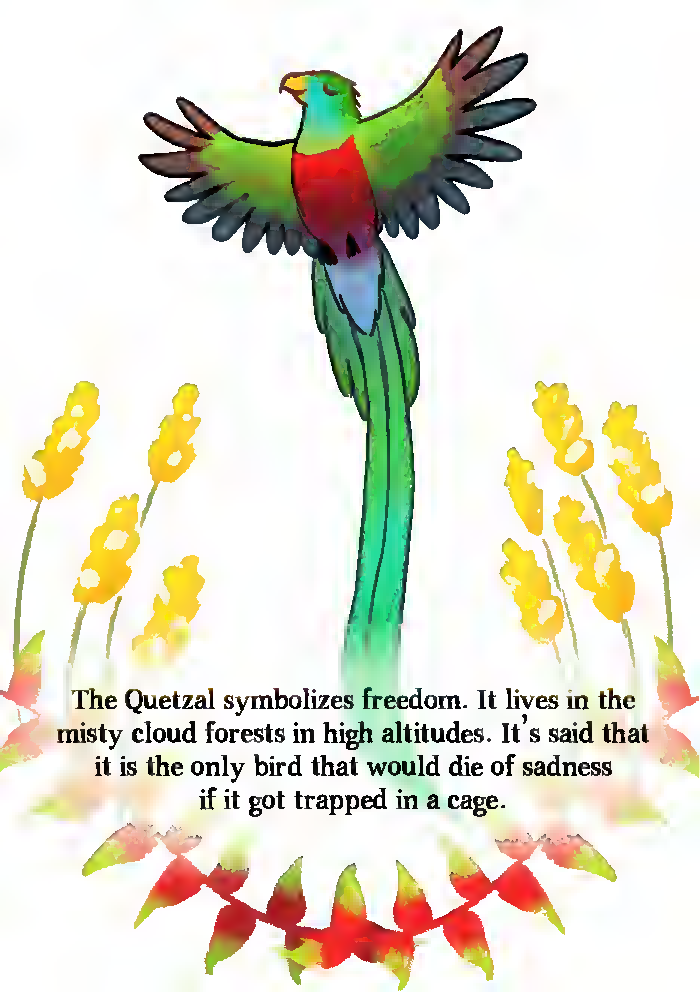
Animals Around The World
#55

JJ18

Hi Bonnie! I currently live in Guatemala! The national animal is the the Quetzal! It's a bird with green and red vibrant colors! Fun Fact the money currency over here is also called quetzal!

Readers from Guatemala!





The Quetzal symbolizes freedom. It lives in the misty cloud forests in high altitudes. It's said that it is the only bird that would die of sadness if it got trapped in a cage.